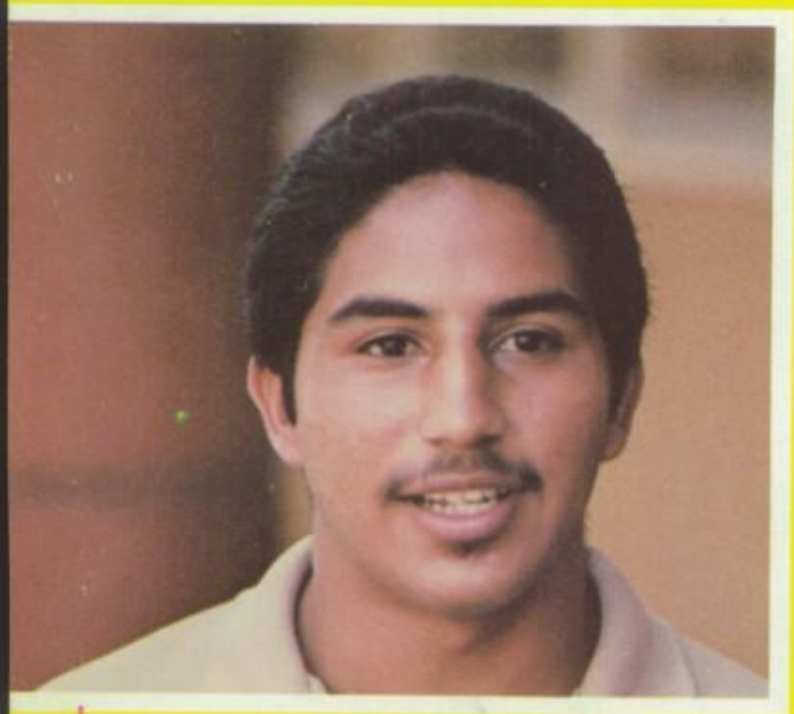
What did you think when you first heard the junior highs were closing?

Kevin Scruggs, 8th Grade:
"I didn't know how I was going to feel bumping into all the big kids, but then I was happy."

Jennifer Gehlke, Freshman:
"Well, I felt sorry for the 7th graders because they'd have to deal with a bigger situation than junior high, one that they weren't quite ready for."

Steven Huckabay, Sophomore:
"I really thought it was a dumb idea, but it seems to be working out okay."



Robert Vallejo, Junior:
"I really didn't think it was a good idea for them to come here. It would have been better if they would've closed a high school because there would have been more mature students.

Laura Fenderson, Senior:
"I felt that the 7th and 8th graders were getting gypped because junior high was a place to get to know yourself."

Junior Highs Close, Sunset Expands

Sunset profited greatly from the closing of the junior highs. Although many thought this transition would be a disaster, the outcome was far from it.

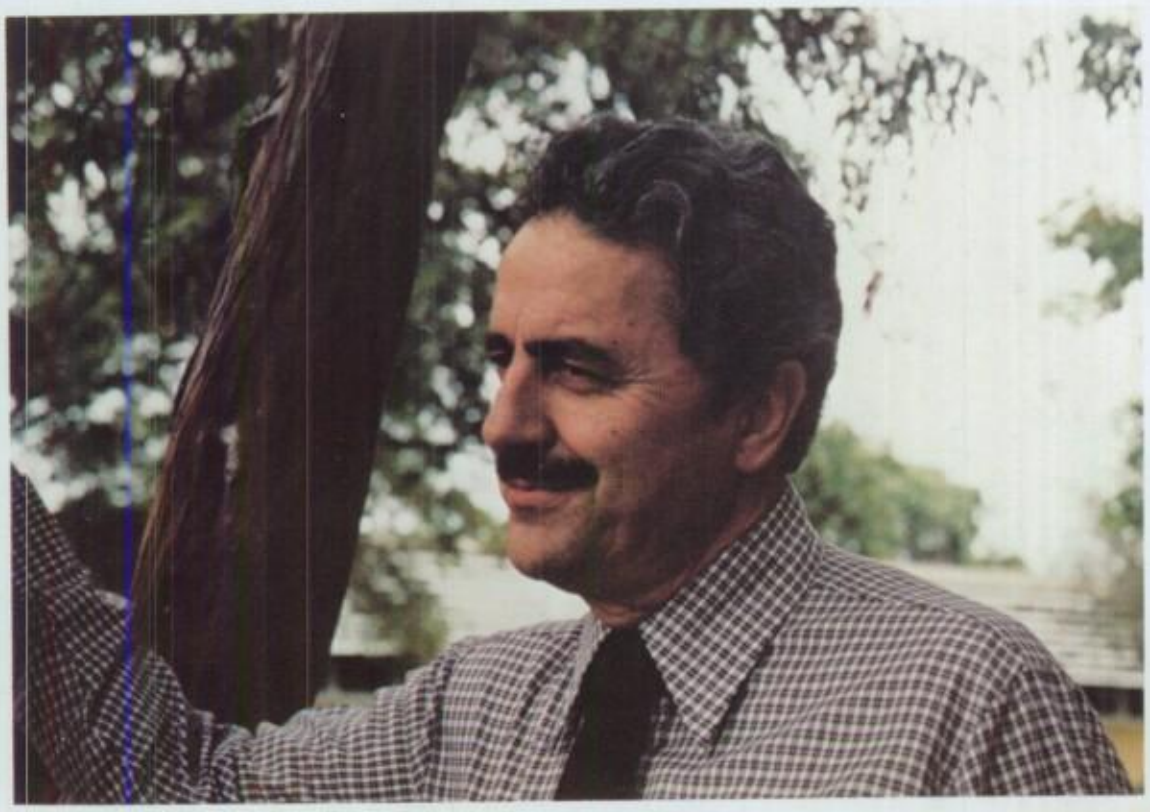
Many changes were made, and Sunset once again became a school to be reckoned with. With 51% of the student body 8th and 9th graders and 40% of the faculty new to the school, we expanded our program, added activities, and made Sunset the best school in the district.

Next year will present an even greater challenge when the 8th grade class arrives directly from elementary school. We know Sunset will be able to meet this challenge.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY, SUNSET!

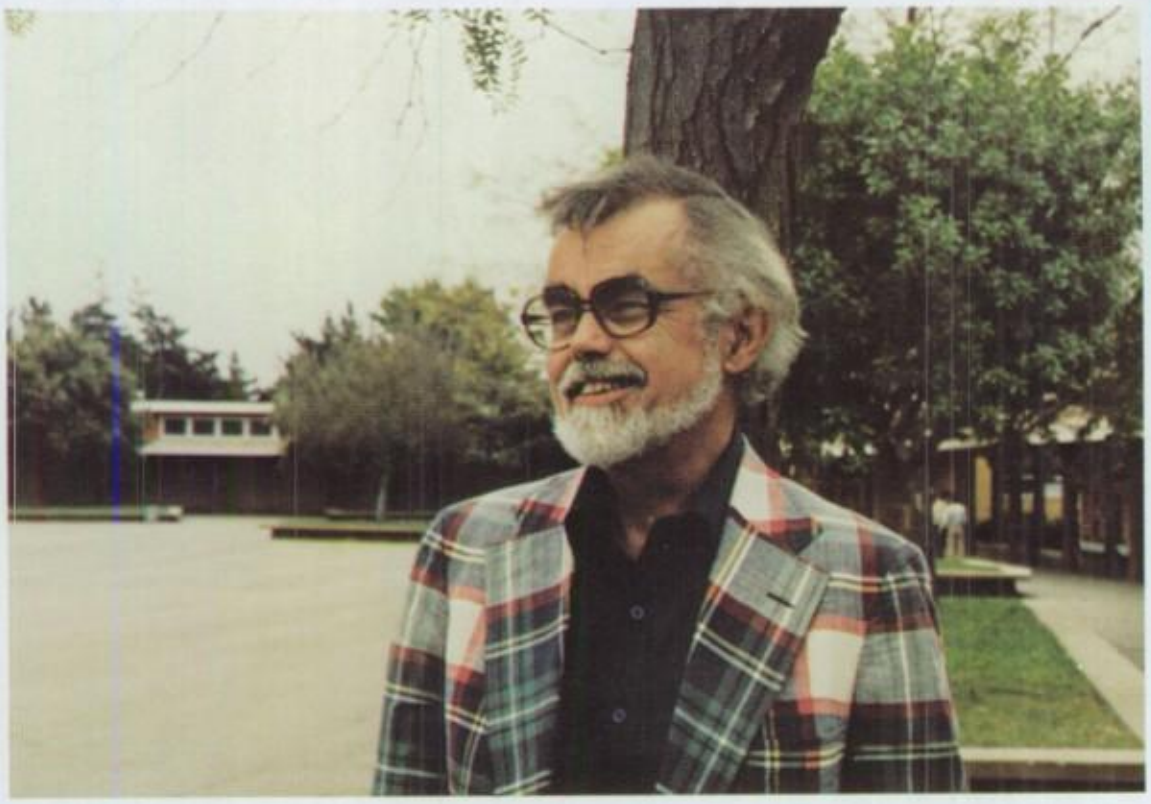
Dedication

In September of 1959 the doors of Sunset were opened for the first time. Many teachers and many students have passed through Sunset's halls, but after 25 years, only three of the original faculty members remain. We want to congratulate these three and say, "Happy 25th Anniversary" by dedicating the 1984 Aquila to them. We also asked them what they thought about the transition, and this is what they said . . .

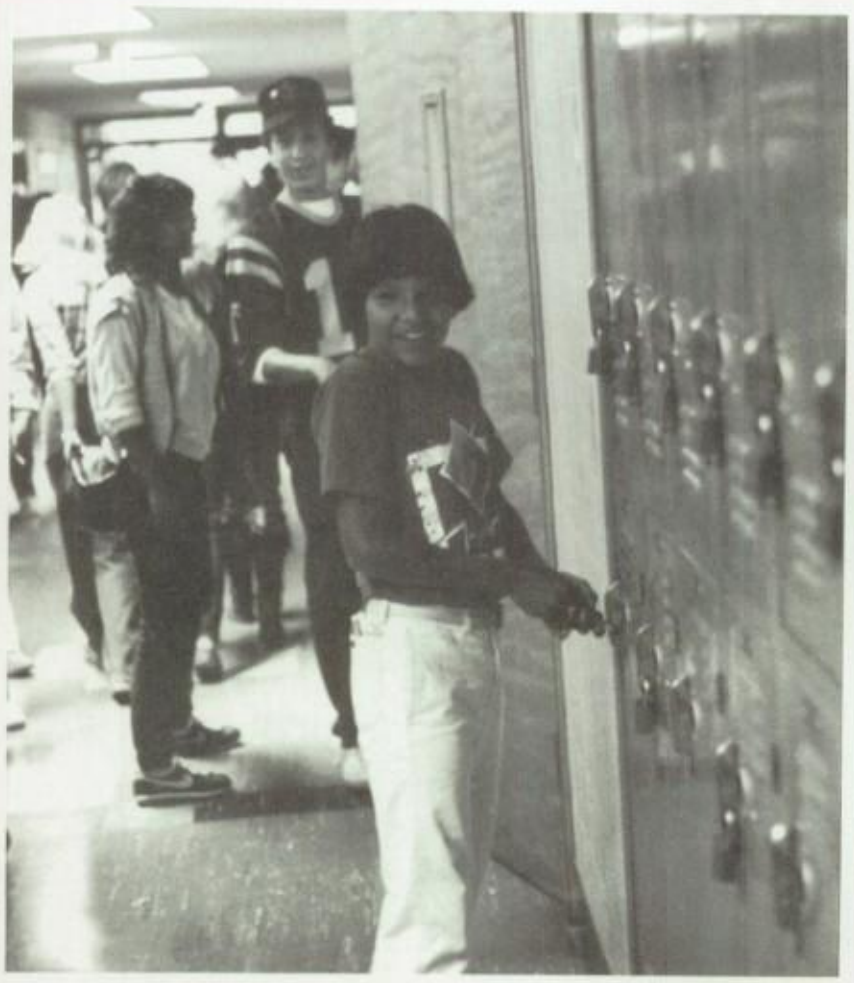


Mr. Flesures: "After some initial programming problems, things have run smoothly. The 8th graders have seemed a little hyper, but they and the new teachers have integrated very nicely."

Miss Knapp: "It's been busier than before, but I haven't really been able to tell which are 8th graders and which are 9th graders. The new teachers have fit in well, but I really like a smaller school where everyone knows everybody else."



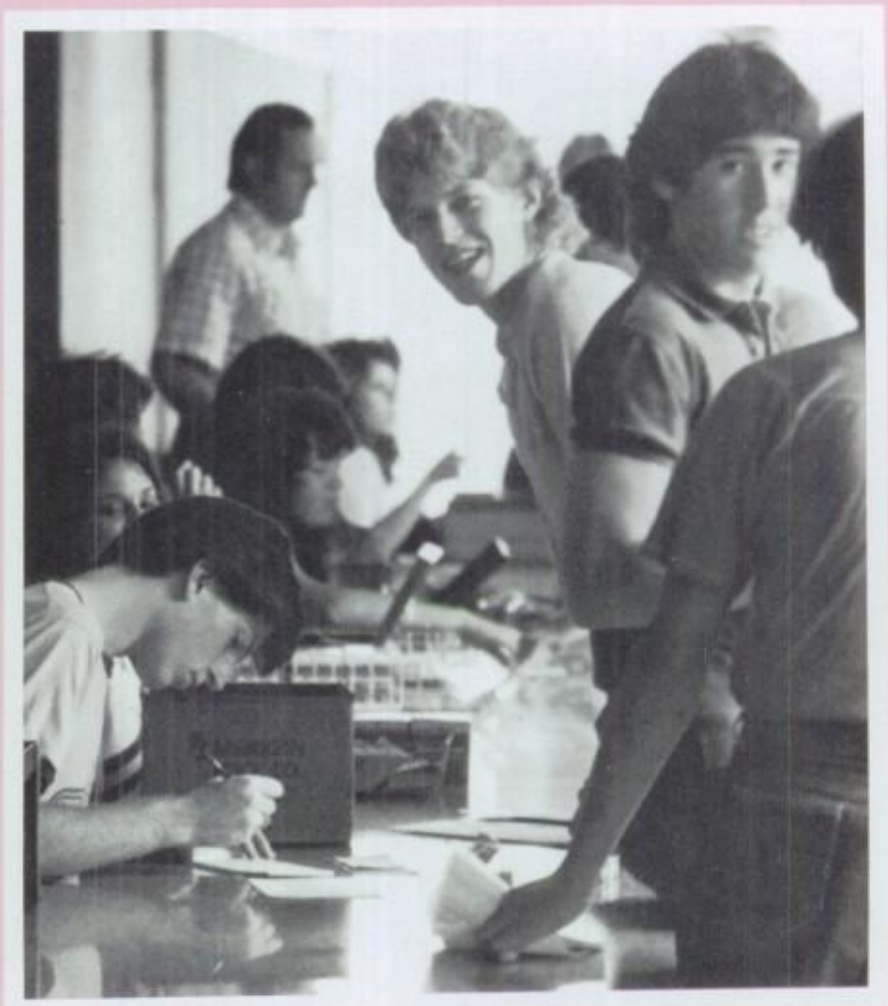
Mr. Frye: "What transition? It's more crowded, and I'd like to have it quieter, but everyone has adapted better than I thought."



And I thought combination locks were a pain!

Selena, tell Jessica your joke.

Yoooo-Hoo . . . I'm up here!



Hi, Mom . . .

Eighth graders smile pretty . . .

Dear Diary,
School's not so bad after all. At first I thought school would be a drag with all the eighth graders coming here. Actually, I really like it. I've met so many people that I wouldn't have met if the school board hadn't de-cided to close the junior high.

A Happy Senior

Dear Diary,
Hey, it's not so bad here after all. I remember feeling terrified about going to Sunset. I thought all the older kids would pick on me. Well, I was wrong. This year at Sunset was awe-some and I LOVE it!

On any given day you are sure to find many different styles at Sunset. Mini-skirts, Marilyn Monroe pants, 501's and Topsiders all have one thing in common—you can find them here at Sunset.

Styles range here from faded blue jeans and rock T-shirts to ultra-bright colors and Preppie clothes.

"I think styles make school fun," says Sandra Correia. "It's neat to look around and find all the styles the younger generation will be wearing," laughs Stephanie Brown.

Just take a look around and you're sure to find a style at Sunset you can fit into.

Accomplishments Strengthen

Accomplishments are an everyday occurrence at Sunset High. Students push themselves and others, and in their own way strive to be the best in whatever they do. This push and these accomplishments build the students into better people with definite goals for the future. These students make Sunset what it is!

1. Juniors successfully clinch 1st place in the tug-o-war for the third straight year.
2. Seniors accomplish Studliness!
3. Their first time in Spirit Week, Freshmen roar to 2nd place victory.
4. Drillteam performs award winning routine at the Big Rally.

Seniors Capture The Gold!!!

The 1984 Senior Olympians captured first place with their amazing unity. The class really pulled together for their last Spirit Week. They had a lot of different ideas this year. Their big poster, "The 1984 Senior Olympians Will Torch-er The Lancers," was made out of canvas, for example, instead of paper.

"We thought it would be a good idea because the poster would last for our class reunion," explained Reggie Samson, the artist.

The seniors did a good job in the Olympics, too. The whole week went well for the class who without a doubt deserved first place. Tina Boswell and Willie Reyes led the class to a victory they'll never forget!

1. Seniors show their stuff at the Big Rally.
2. "Ya' should've never came back, Falcona!"
3. In her four years at Sunset, they still didn't teach Cindy how to eat!
4. Tina Boswell "fires up"!
5. Seniors sing their hearts out.
6. Olga FATovich does her famous floor exercise routine.
7. Tug-O-War machine looks mean.
8. Willie Reyes looks on with pride.

Freshmen Fire Up For 2nd Place

1. Funky Fiery Freshmen catch the spirit.
2. Beautiful hairdo, Ronda . . .
3. Wrap, wrap, wrap . . .
4. Freshmen yell for victory.

The class of '87 soared close to the top with Regina Calles as Princess and David Rutherford as Mascot. Under their leadership, the Funky Fiery Freshmen had the spirit to cremate three other classes and take 2nd place.

Julius Caesar and the Junior Romans, led by Traci Soule and Jason Mandawe, roamed to a disappointing fourth place. "I think the problem was that we just didn't have enough people," explained David Shaw. Although the Juniors lacked in numbers, they managed to maintain their traditional first place in the tug-o-war!

8th Graders Follow the Yellow Brick Road to 5th Place.

The Class of '88 took Sunset High to the Land of Oz. Led by Kristen Smith and Peter Goebel, the eighth graders took a rocky road to fifth place But the class brought a new kind of spirit to Spirit Week.

"Having the eighth graders involved added a new excitement!" said upperclassmen Tracy Quiner. "Although the class took fifth place, they did an outstanding job!"

1. David Shaw goes bananas!
2. Traci and Jason bare their sexy shoulders.
3. Juniors eagerly await their turn at the Big Rally.
4. "I'm ready!"

3. Judges ponder their decision.
4. "We're #1, not 2, not 3, not 4 . . ."

After hours of decorating, the big moment came for each class to run through the doors to find their class section. They filled the gym with the mighty Falcon spirit. A panel of judges rated each class on their spirit, skits and conduct. The Big Rally of '83 was AWESOME!!!!

Homecoming: Totally Live!!

The final competition for each class was held at the homecoming game against Tennyson. The stands were full and the Sunset spirit was high. The classes cheered for the players and for the Spirit Stick, which was awarded to the most spirited class at the end of each quarter. Class princesses and mascots paraded around the track in cars decorated in class colors. We lost the game, but nothing could dim our spirit.

1. Freshmen take a ride during half time.
2. Surfin' Sophomores say, "AAHHHH!"
3. Sunset's proud and majestic Falcon.
4. Junior princess and mascot show some style.

A Transition In Spirit Week.

This year five classes competed instead of the four Sunset was used to. This changed the whole format of the week. This year's rally days were everyday except Friday, the day of the Big Rally. In the past, rally days were Monday and Tuesday. "The week turned out to be exciting because I'm a senior, but it seemed a little strange because of the different format," said Jessica Rodriquez. Overall, Spirit Week turned out to be a transition we all enjoyed.

New Coaches . . . A New Beginning

This year was a transition year for the Sunset football team. Under the direction of new coaches, the team kept improving week by week. Although lack of experience handicapped us and we didn't win a game, this football season will never be forgotten.

1. Coach Cisneros plots new strategy.
2. Sunset holds the Rebel offense.
3. Falcon offense runs the ball.

Volleyballers Take 4th In League

Under the strong leadership of Captain Dede Rodrigues, the varsity volleyball team had a very successful season. They lost a couple of close ones, but managed to end the season with a 7-5 record that put them into the H.A.A.L. play-offs.

The Falcons took on top-seeded San Lorenzo in the first round, and they forced the Rebels to a third game before finally losing the match. They displayed courage and spirit in all three games, just as they did all season, and we are proud of their 4th place finish in the league.

The 1983 Cross Country team had a successful season. Coach Dave Kiesel stated that "although we were a young team, all the runners performed extremely well." Varsity lettermen were Bryant Young, Tony Burciaga, Mike Williams, Robert Spencer and Jay Thompson. Frosh-Soph lettermen were Edmund Ying, Robert Keil and Billy Brown.

Our mighty Falcon runners met their challenge and crossed every finish line, taking 3rd in the league.

"What do we got . . . we got pride!"

With thirteen girls on the squad, the Sparklers spent a lot of time during the summer practicing new routines for the 1983-1984 school year. They attended United Spirit Association's summer camp in Santa Cruz, and from there united to build up their awesome Falcon spirit.

With the help of their advisors Linda Heath, Mrs. Braga, and Mr. Lloyd, the girls raised the money to buy new uniforms and new pom-pons. They performed at many lunchtime rallies, and entered the Omega Kick-off Rally at the Neighborhood Church in Castro Valley, where they missed taking 3rd place by only nine points.

Under the leadership of Dana Buchanan, head cheerleader, and Mary Harbinson, head song girl, the Sparklers were live!

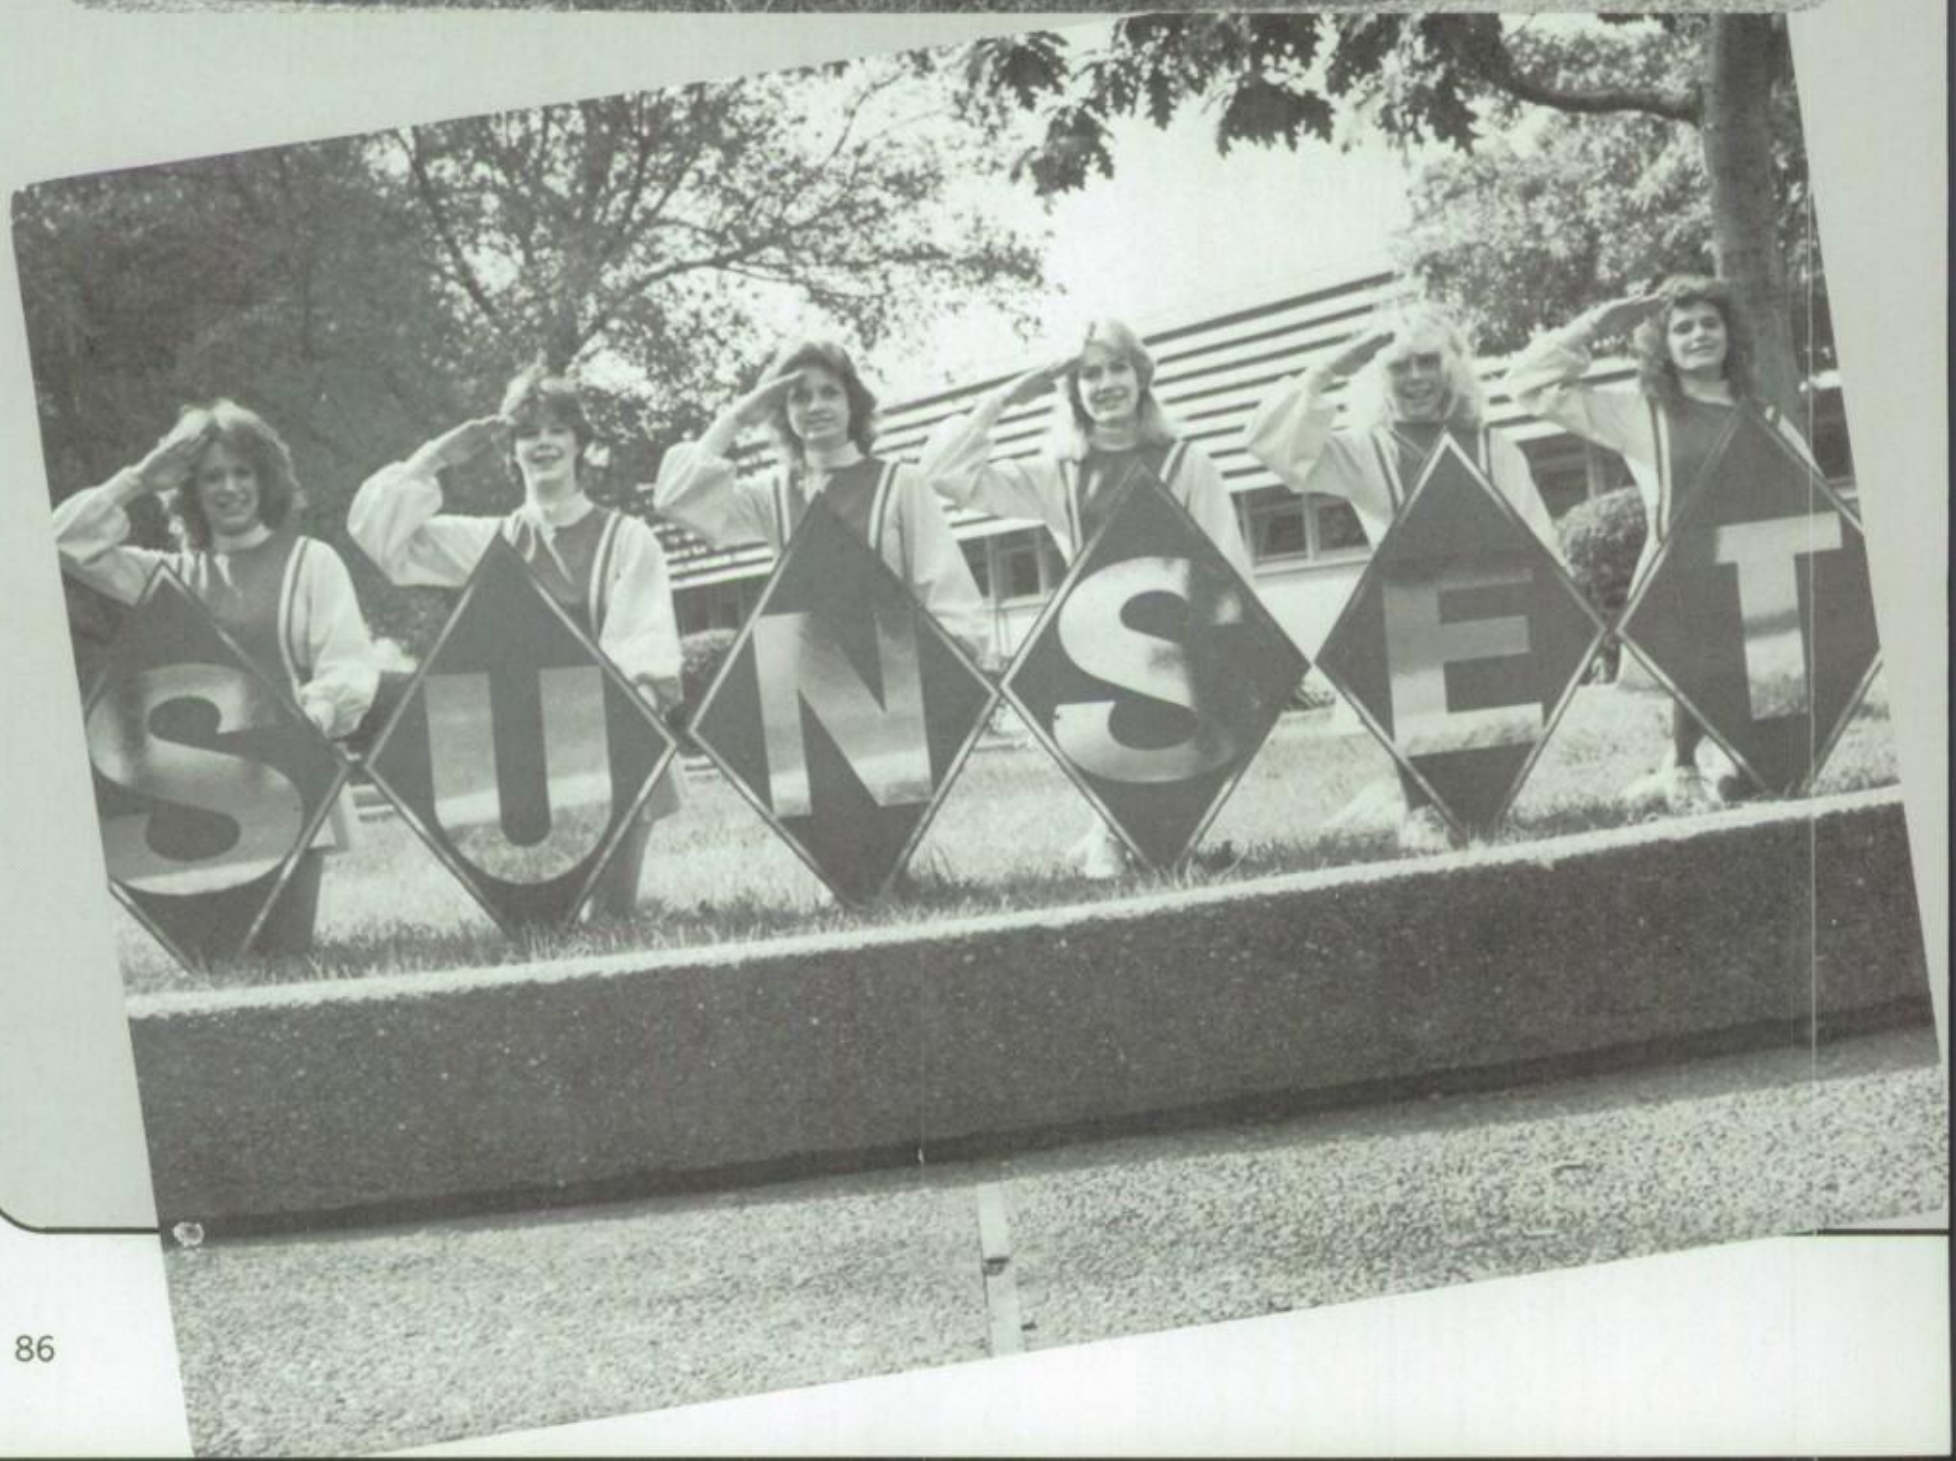
Our Musical Marching Band

Meeting every morning at 7:30 a.m. under the direction of Mr. Tom Jones, a teacher new to Sunset, thirty-five students gathered together to play music and have fun. Together with the attached units—the Drill and Flag Teams, and the I.D. Unit—the band had a total of sixty members.

Drum Major Brian Bownds led the band in many parades during the year, including the Newark parade in which both the band and Drum Major placed second.

Our proud marching band not only competed in parades around the Bay Area, but came to every home game to entertain the crowd during half-time and to support the team with their lively spirit.

Says Mr. Jones: "The band is a firm foundation. Down the road I see greater things in store."



SUNSET

This year's 11 member Drill Team was terrific. They entertained us with their routine to "Some Kind of Friend" at the football games and took first place, and a second place for Drill captain at the Newark parade. This competitive team headed by Karen Durkee and Laurie Reeves were more organized than last year. Their organization and top notch routine was a transition we all enjoyed.

Varsity Basketball

This year's varsity basketball team had a rough season. The team was small and young, but they played with a lot of heart.

Next year should be another story.

Girls varsity soccer was something new this year at Sunset . . . and something definitely to look forward to in coming seasons.

Under the direction of Coach David Contreras, the fledgling Falcons played with drive and determination. Particularly outstanding was the performance of senior goalie Tracie Smith.

Although they didn't make the playoffs this year, the team stuck together and showed a winning spirit.

Varsity Soccer

Although the Varsity team got off to a slow start they made it to the playoffs. A lot of players were injured early in the season, but in the second half the team was healthy and didn't lose a game.

"I think the coach did a great job pulling us together," said Co-Captain Jose Lemus.

1. Jose puts the moves on a Hayward opponent.
2. Robert concentrates on the ball.

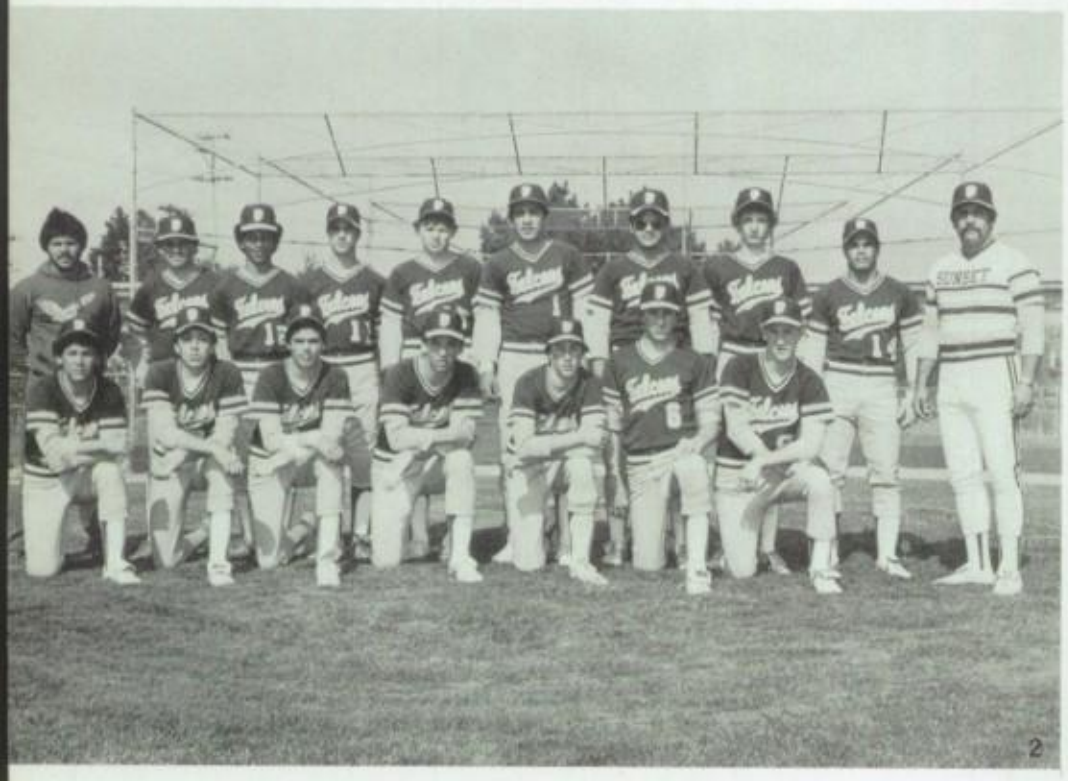
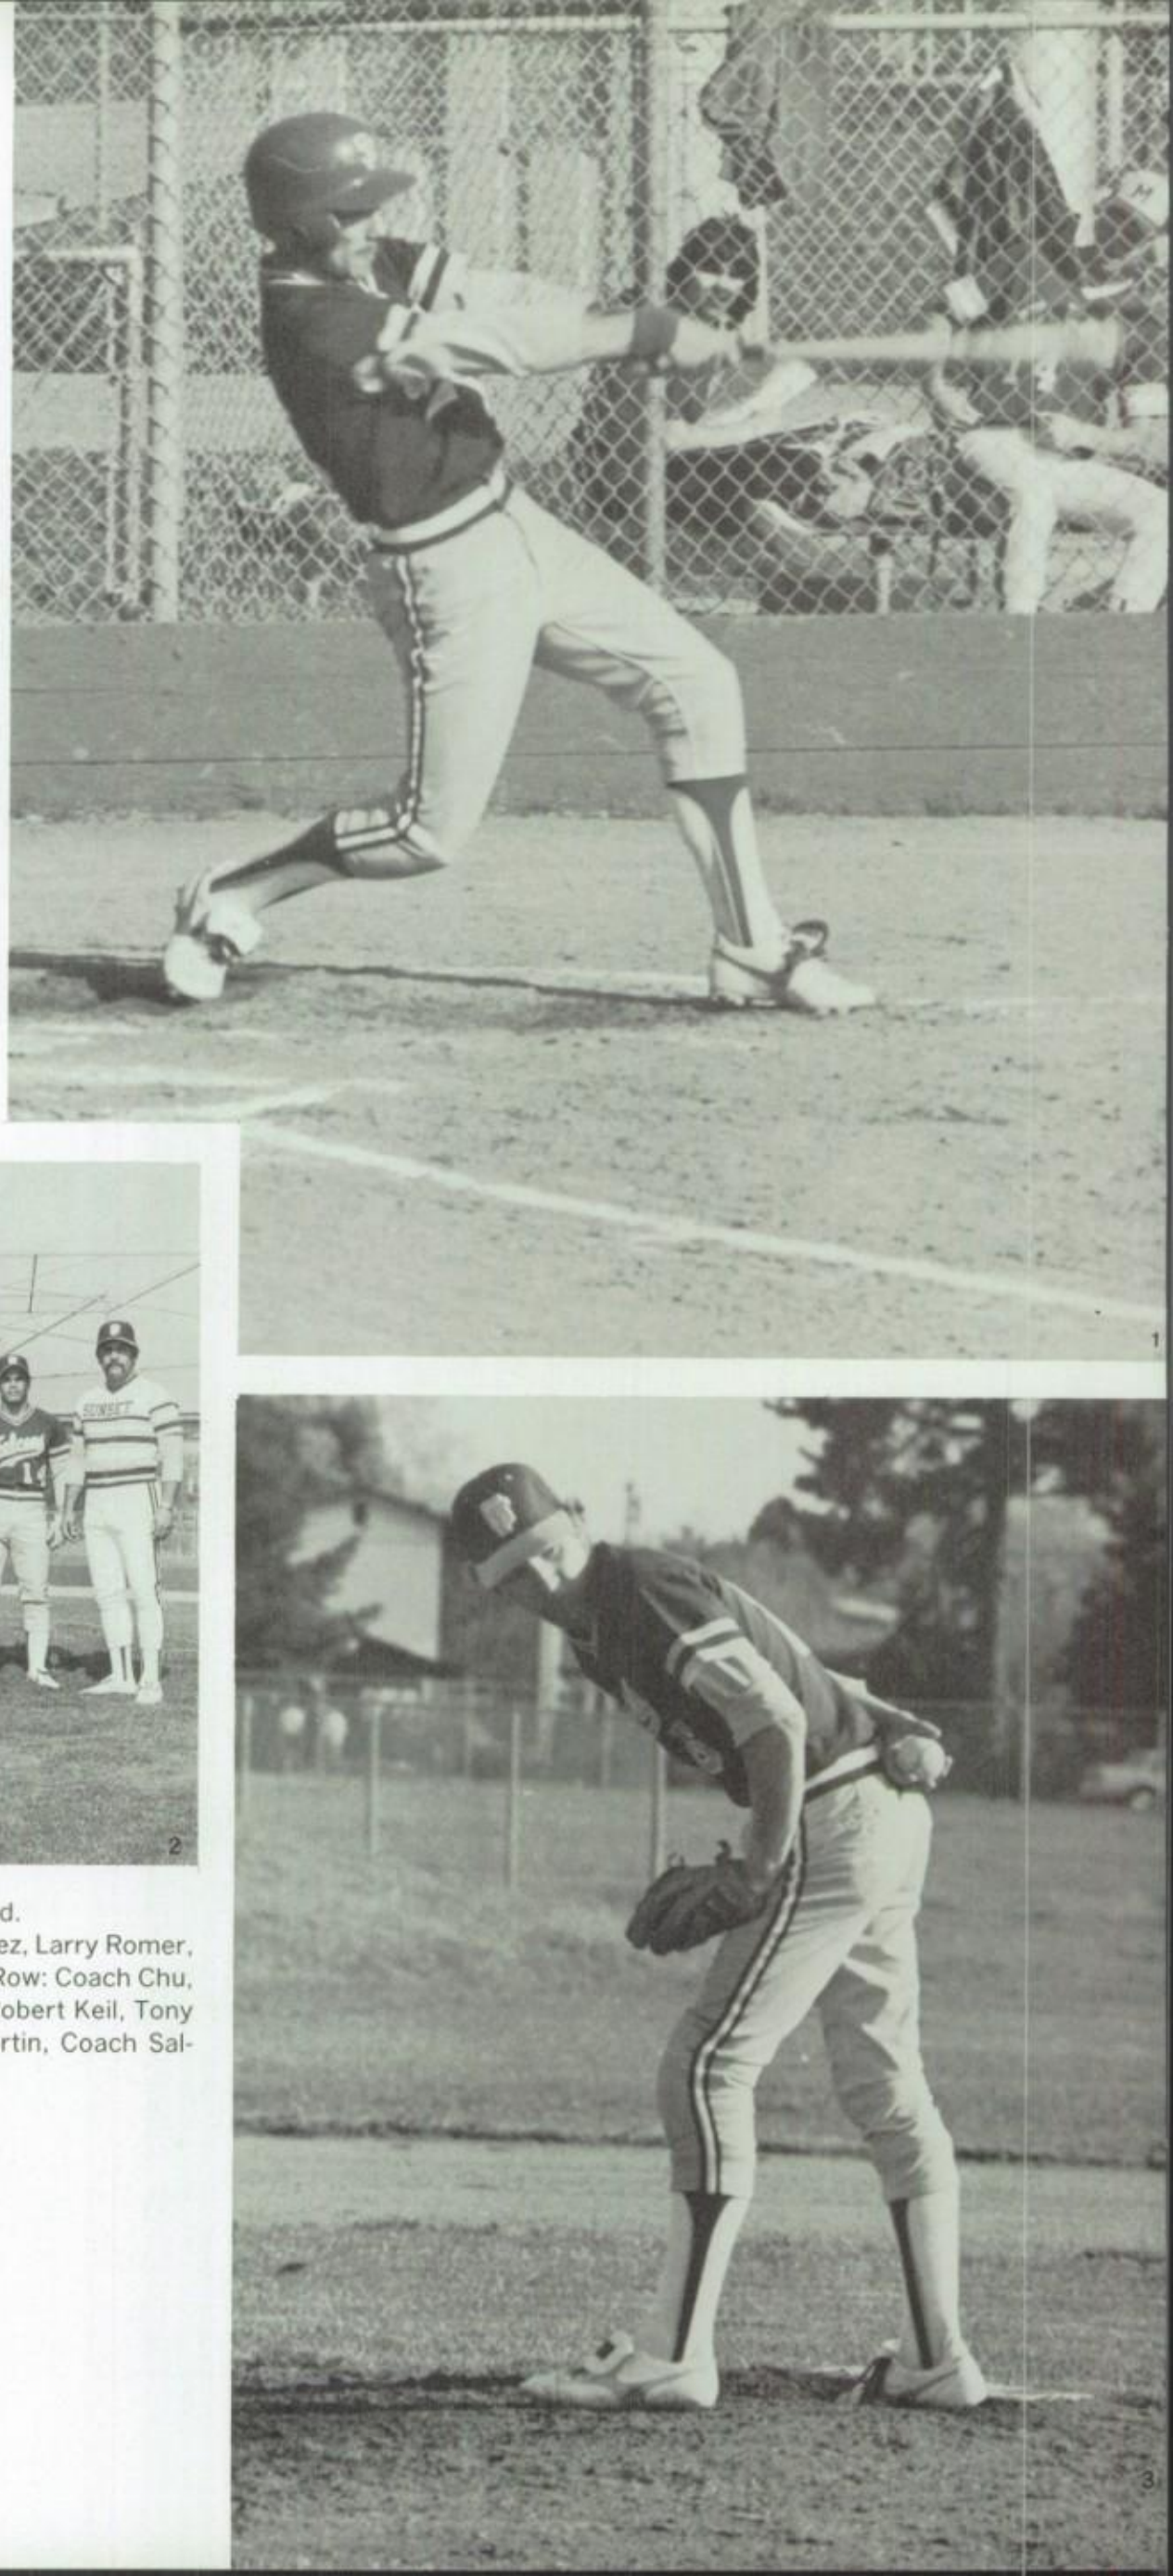
Varsity Baseball Looks To '85

This year's varsity baseball team mainly consisted of young, but experienced players. The entire starting infield was made up of sophomores. Next season these sophomores will contribute a lot to our Falcon team, giving it the potential to go all the way to the playoffs.





1. Tony Burciaga powers one out into center field.
2. Front Row: Alfredo Lopez, Pillo Loza, Jerry Valdez, Larry Romer, Brian Bisi, Robert Anderson, Scott Divita Back Row: Coach Chu, Jose Sandoval, Larry Lopez, Richard Ortega, Robert Keil, Tony Burciaga, Joey Gerardo, Mitch Enos, John Fortin, Coach Salsedo.

Bonjour,

Dearest Sheryl,

It has been a great fun knowing you for about 7½ years now. I'm so glad that we're still friends. You're a such a really sweet, fantastic, wonderful and a super friend. You know what? You, your sister Lynette, and your sister, Christine are my very best + true friends and I know that we'll be friends forever... Well... How do you like going to school at Sunset and how do you like de Français? I hope you enjoyed your french class and your last, more year at Sunset High school. Good luck in your freshman year and good luck in everything you'll ever do. Well, have a great, joyful, fun, terrific, fantastic, cheerful, super, and a happy summer vacation. I'll be seeing you a lot this summer and Lynette, you, + Christine and I'll go out one of this day, for sure + I promise. OK? if you, Lynette + Christine aren't busy... come to visit me and my family, alright or Call me up, okay? Well, right now I have fun at your house. I really do, I just want to let you know that... Because.. well, I guess I'm pretty quite so I really don't talk that much.. because sometimes when I come over to your house, I usually don't talk much! well, I do have a great time.

The Aviation Club, also a class, is a transition at Sunset. Under the leadership of Mrs. Powell, the future pilots of America went to the Hayward airport and had the experience of flying a plane. Said Jerry Feliciano, "I like the Aviation class because I would like to fly. I would like to get my student license."

Under the leadership of Mr. Steve Bower and Mr. Neil Jorgensen, the energy class members have used their minds and their abilities to make energy valuable to Sunset. The biggest project was the beginning of a stage that will be used to experiment with solar energy. This class is a great way for students to learn to conserve energy and understand its value.

Sunset's student government really got the '83-'84 school year rolling. Planning and organizing Spirit Week was their first big task, and they made it a super success. Santa's Sleigh Ride, which was held in December, was also a big success.

Most student officers take a class called Leadership. All in all, Leadership is considered to be a fun class, but it isn't all fun and games like some people think. The students who take it have to study like they do in other classes. They learn leadership techniques and how government works, and in their weekly meetings they plan dances, activities and fund raisers.

Under the direction of the advisor, Mr. Bower, and Student Body President Jose Lemus, this year's student government was awesome!

Jazz is not a composer's art. Rather, it is the art of the performer, the performing ensemble, and the arranger. The quality of the art is dependent upon their creative ideas.

Close Up Goes To Washington

The week of November 6-13 marked Close Up's 12th annual visit to our nation's capital. Financing their trip through extensive sales of cheese, sausage and donuts, and through scholarship donations, the students enjoyed a week filled with meetings with political figures, topic seminars and daily workshops. A 2-day excursion to Jamestown and Williamsburg, and students from Minnesota and Georgia helped make the week memorable.

Special Day Class Comes To Sunset

The Special Day Class is a first at Sunset. The class emphasizes independence and responsibility, and the students learn to function as independently as possible in the community, at school and at home. The class covers money management, travel skills, reading, and vocational education, and under the direction of Miss Barry, it is a great success!

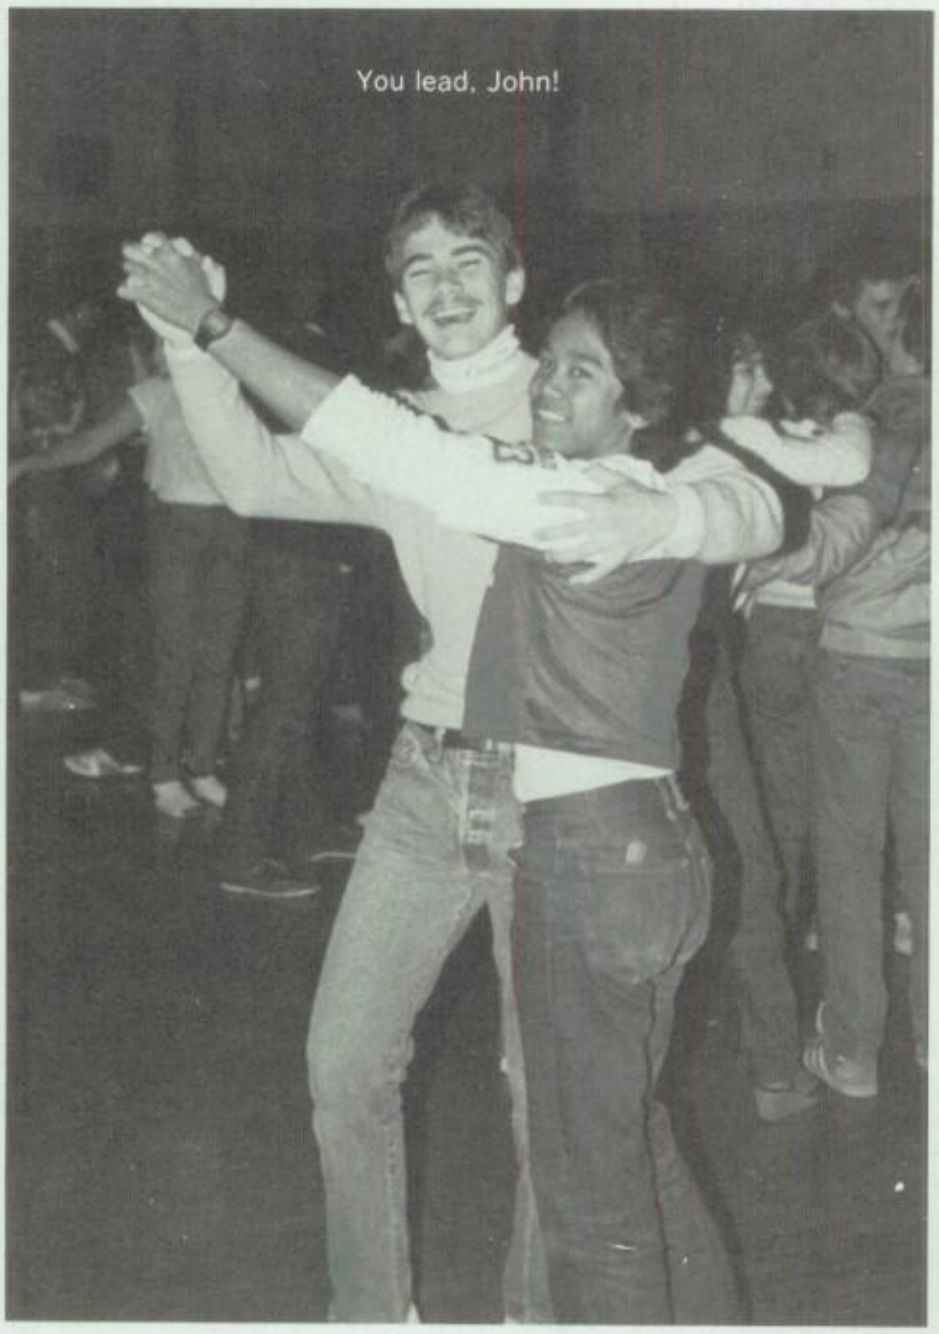
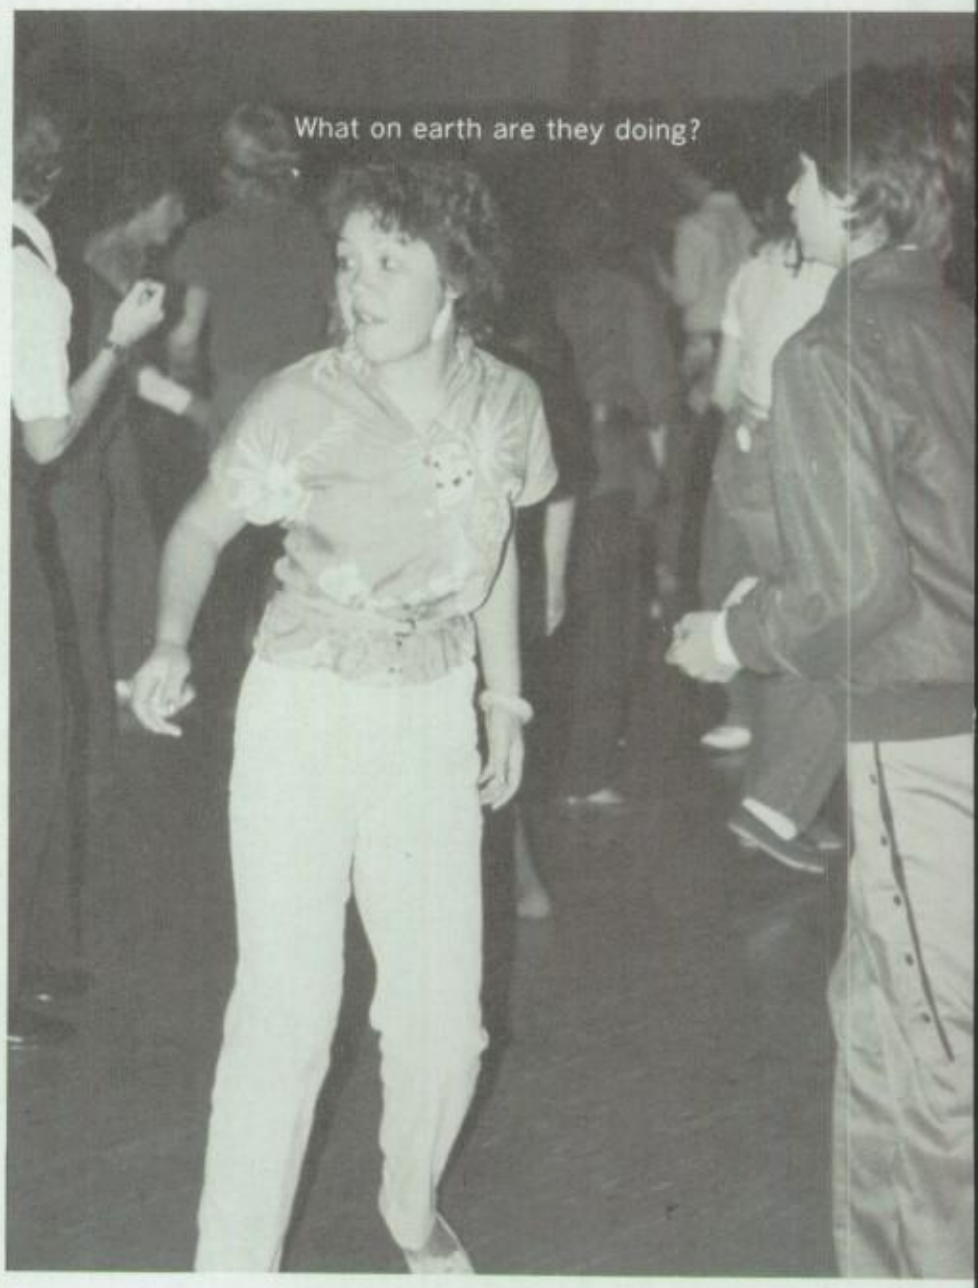
Dances: A Cause For Celebration



You lead, John!



What on earth are they doing?

The A.S.B. put on a number of excellent dances this year. The attendance at these dances was always high. The A.S.B. got a video D.J. for one of the dances, and along with the music, videos were played. "I always look forward to the dances, everyone always has such a good time," said frequent dance attender, Reggie Samson. Spirits always picked up when a dance was announced. Dances this year were a cause for celebration!

Santa's Sleigh Ride . . . A Wintery Success

On Dec. 15th ten couples competed in this wintery sleigh race. Bound by a bandana, couples had to pull a wagon full of gifts through many obstacles. First place went to none other than the senior mascot and princess, Willie Reyes and Tina Boswell. Santa's sleigh ride brought holiday cheer to our sometimes quiet quad.

Student Store ReOpens

The Student Store, located at the end of D-Hall, opened for business January 5. Sunset had been out of the Student Store business for over two years, but with the expanded student body, Mr. Stewart, felt that the store could operate in the black. The Store was open before school selling donuts and hot chocolate, and at lunchtime selling popcorn, nuts, candy and other goodies.

As videos flashed on a nearby screen, Sunset students and their guests rocked to the beat at Sunset's first video dance. The dance turned out to be one of the best dances Sunset's ever had. Attendance was high and we all enjoyed ourselves.

"It was a great dance with a new twist . . . videos!" said Jan Barton.

Sweetheart Dance

Kelly and Kevin share a quiet moment.

"But I don't want to dance!"

John and Lisa have a swingin' time.

The Valentine Dance was held February 10th. Although the attendance was lower than at the video dance, it was still fun. Instead of videos the A.S.B. chose to have a light show. Cupid did his job at this dance, too, and the dance floor was really crowded on every slow song.

On February 24th a handful of nervous class officers stood on the cafeteria stage and were auctioned off as slaves to the highest bidder. Arnel Salonga, who was sold to Doreen Lau for $45.00, was the most expensive slave.

Early the following morning, the servants waited to see what kind of crazy things their masters had planned for them. During the course of the day, masters had their slaves waiting on them hand and foot. As you can see, these were . . . CRAZY DAYS!!!

On March 23, Sunset held its long awaited A.S.B. Convention. "Sunset Goes Hollywood" was the theme this year, and the delegations consisted of everything from "Flashdance" to the "Saturday Morning Funnies."

The convention ran smoothly throughout the day, and was most exciting during each caucus when pages ran around frantically delivering notes and messages.

After the convention ended, students eagerly awaited the convention dance that was held that night.

The P.T.S.A. is an organization consisting of parents, teachers and students. Its main function is to keep the lines of communication open.

This year the members of the P.T.S.A. have helped to raise money for Sunset, and they have helped in the folding and processing of the newsletters. They have also provided refreshments for College Night, Open House and other events. Thanks to the P.T.S.A. for all their hard work.

Dear Sheryl —
Thank you for being a polite & nice person. Im glad that ya get good grades, too. It will pay off for ya.
Thanks,
M. Williams

Sheryl

I'm so glad I asked you to church that one time. It's so good to have a chrishtone to talk to. Have fun this summer I know I will. It was a ok year. I can't tell are senior year us three will walk all proud hand in hand to get are diploma. It's going to be "Awsome". See you at church I hope. We'll be friends forever even If we don't agree on somethings van Halen is better then Def-Lepperd Just kiding. God Bless you always he loves you and so do I.

love Ya
